José Feliciano

Entertainer

José Feliciano is acclaimed as the “world’s greatest living guitarist” and as a musician who has opened the door for many other Latin artists. A multitude of Gold and Platinum records, six Grammy awards and numerous other honors attest to his singular greatness.

But he is also an inspiration to countless people who are without sight.

Mr. Feliciano was born blind, to humble beginnings, in Puerto Rico, one of 11 boys. His affinity for music became evident at the age of three, when he accompanied his uncle on a tin can. After the family immigrated to New York City, he adopted a more conventional instrument, the accordion, at age six, and taught himself to play by listening to a handful of records.

Displaying an indomitable resolve, José then learned the guitar, often practicing for as many as 14 hours a day. Quitting school at 17 to help support his family, he performed at coffee shops in Greenwich Village for “pass-the-hat” money and made his professional debut that same year in Detroit.

Mr. Feliciano may not have been an overnight success, but by the time he was 23, he had earned five Grammy nominations and won two Grammy awards for his album, “Feliciano!,” had performed throughout much of the world, and had recorded songs in four languages.

“Light My Fire,” originally recorded by The Doors, soon became his signature song. He is also renowned for “Feliz Navidad,” the Christmas song that has become a tradition worldwide during the holiday season. The American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers (ASCAP) has placed the latter among the 25 Greatest Holiday Songs of the Century.

Mr. Feliciano’s fame is enduring. In December of 1987, his star was permanently implanted on the Hollywood Walk of Fame. Similarly, he was awarded a star on the Walk of Fame in his native Puerto Rico, alongside José Ferrer and Raul Julia, and more recently his hands were cast for the Wall of Fame at Madame Tussaud’s museum in London.

In the early 90s, Mr. Feliciano indulged himself by staying closer to home, enjoying his young family and trying his hand at a life-long desire — “to be on the air.” The local radio station, WMMM — which is now an affiliate of WSHU — became the instrument for this dream. He paired with the station’s general manager to host a Saturday morning program, which lasted for well over a year until his touring schedule could not accommodate the time it took to broadcast a weekly show.

The end of 1994 brought one of what Mr. Feliciano describes as his greatest honors, an invitation to Rome to star on “Christmas at the Vatican” and to have a private audience with Pope John Paul II.

In 1996, he received the “Lifetime Achievement Award” from Billboard magazine.

Mr. Feliciano and his wife, Susan, are residents of Connecticut’s Fairfield County and are the parents of three children, Melissa Anne, Jonathan José and Michael Julian.

On this 20th day of May, 2001, Sacred Heart University is privileged and proud to celebrate the accomplishments of an extraordinary entertainer and human being by presenting the degree, Doctor of Humane Letters, honoris causa, to

José Feliciano.

Sister Elena Jaramillo

Humanitarian and Social Worker

Some people change the world through extraordinary measures. Others do so in less noticeable, but equally important ways. As a member of the Sisters of St. Joseph of Orange, California, since 1953, Sister Elena Jaramillo has been changing the world by touching the lives and hearts of countless people, one at a time.

A native of Vale, Oregon, Sister Elena is one of 13 children of parents of Mexican descent. She believes deeply in the Church's mission to serve the poor, and has consistently demonstrated that passionate commitment throughout her life.

After receiving a degree in Spanish from St. Joseph's College in 1962, Sister Elena served as an elementary school teacher, primarily in California, until 1974. During that time, she also pursued post-graduate studies at the Jesuit University of Ibero-Americana in Mexico City, and in Cuernavaca, Mexico.

Sister Elena worked in social services from 1974-1981, serving in parishes in California and Texas. She also participated in the movement to protest the poor pay and working conditions of farm workers in California, spearheaded by the National Farm Workers Association under the leadership of Cesar Chavez.

In 1982, she began working as a parish sister in East Los Angeles, which made her more aware of the struggles of the people of El Salvador, many of whom had immigrated to Southern California. It was through her experiences in East Los Angeles that she was inspired to move to El Salvador in 1987.

Sister Elena has been helping the people of El Salvador learn to live and work together as a civil and religious community and as responsible citizens of their country. She has ministered to families devastated by civil war, repeated natural disasters and enduring poverty.

After her arrival in El Salvador, she provided pastoral support during the civil war, helping families who had lost their loved ones. Since the war's end, she has been working with both civic and religious organizations to rebuild and revitalize several communities. Sister Elena helped establish a non-governmental organization, Foundation for the Land, Hope of Campesinos (FUTESCAM), to foster the development of agricultural cooperatives through education, loans, community development and the provision of heavy equipment. Most recently, she has been helping people deal with the devastation wrought by two massive earthquakes that struck El Salvador in early 2001.

The families of San Hilario are particularly close to her heart. It was Sister Elena who, working with Sacred Heart University, selected San Hilario as the destination for the University's service efforts in El Salvador. By doing so, she has opened our eyes and raised the collective consciousness of the Sacred Heart University community to the conditions in El Salvador. So that we may follow her example and open our hearts to the people of El Salvador as she has, Sacred Heart University has been sending delegations of students and faculty to San Hilario regularly since 1992.

In her own quiet way, with each life she embraces, Sister Elena sends forth a tiny ripple of hope that we can all rise above our circumstances and embrace the love God has for us.

On this 20th day of May, 2001, Sacred Heart University is honored to celebrate the remarkable life of an extraordinary person who has used her gifts in service to others by presenting the degree, Doctor of Humane Letters, honoris causa, to

Sister Elena Jaramillo.

Most Reverend William E. Lori, D.D., S.T.D.

Bishop of Bridgeport

William Edward Lori was born on May 6, 1951, in Louisville, Kentucky, the second of three sons of Margaret and Francis Lori.

He received a bachelor's degree from the Seminary of Saint Pius X in Erlanger, Kentucky, in 1973, and a master's degree from Mount Saint Mary's Seminary in Emmitsburg, Maryland, in 1977. In 1982, Bishop Lori received his Doctorate in Sacred Theology (S.T.D.) from the Catholic University of America in Washington, D.C.

Bishop Lori was ordained to the priesthood by William Cardinal Baum, Archbishop of Washington, D.C. on May 14, 1977, in Saint Matthew Cathedral in Washington. His first assignment was as Associate Pastor of St. Joseph Parish in Landover, Maryland, a position he held for five years. Thereafter, Bishop Lori held a number of official chancery positions in the Archdiocese.

In 1982, he became Theological Advisor to His Eminence, James Cardinal Hickey, Archbishop of Washington, an assignment he held until last year. From 1983 through 1994, he served as Secretary to Cardinal Hickey.

From 1982 through 1986, he was Director of Ecumenical Affairs for the Archdiocese. From 1988-1994, he was Censor Librorum.

In 1994, he was appointed Vicar General of the Archdiocese and Moderator of the Curia.

On April 20, 1995, Bishop Lori was ordained to the episcopate as Auxiliary Bishop of Washington and Titular Bishop of Bulla, an ancient suffragan see in modern-day Tunisia.

Bishop Lori was named the fourth Bishop of the Diocese of Bridgeport on January 23, 2001, and was installed during a Mass held at Sacred Heart University on March 19.

Since 1982, Bishop Lori has sat on a number of important committees of the Archdiocese of Washington and the National Conference of Catholic Bishops (NCCB). Presently he is a member of the NCCB Committees on Human Values, Education, the Diaconate, and the Missions. He has served as a member of the Board of Governors of the Maryland Catholic Conference and the District of Columbia Catholic Conference.

Bishop Lori is a member of the Board of Trustees of the Catholic University of America and chairman of its Academic Affairs Committee.

University History

The Seal

The official seal of Sacred Heart University was introduced on July 22, 1963. It was designed by Frank Sullivan, an art teacher in New Jersey. Sullivan had been commissioned to design the seal by his friend, Dr. Maurice J. O'Sullivan, Sacred Heart University's first academic dean. The original pen and ink hangs in the diocesan museum at The Catholic Center in Bridgeport.

The original seal consists of a shield, a surrounding wreath of hearts and flowers, and the inscription "Universitas Sacri Cordis" in large letters on the outside of the seal and "Dioecesis Bridgeportensis, 1963" on the inner circle.

The shield consists of a dexter — the right-hand side of a shield (the left as seen by the viewer) — and a sinister, the left-hand side of a shield. The dexter impalement bears the jurisdictional arms of the Diocese of Bridgeport. The bridge above waves of flowing water affords an apt expression of the name of the diocese that encompasses Fairfield County, Connecticut, where Sacred Heart University is located. The bridge represents service, which forges strong bonds of understanding and unity between diverse constituencies, while the vivifying water symbolizes the "port" by which new knowledge and ideas energize the scholars who commit themselves to the disciplines of academic inquiry. The Cross of Our Faith above the bridge dignifies the other symbols and identifies the University as a community that celebrates the richness of the Catholic intellectual tradition.

The sinister impalement displays the personal coat of arms of the Most Rev. Walter W. Curtis, S.T.D., the founder of Sacred Heart University and the second Bishop of the Diocese of Bridgeport. The central checkered bar, taken from the Curtis family coat of arms, suggests the collaborative nature of the learning community in which each individual member contributes to the integrity of the whole. The two diamond-shaped lozenges, taken from the Costello family shield to honor the Bishop's mother, are placed in the upper portion to highlight the University's two most precious treasures: Love, the compassion of God as symbolized in the Sacred Heart of Jesus, and Truth, the goal of all scholarly activity. The University shield also honors Mary, the Seat of Wisdom, by including the crescent moon, which is the symbol of Our Lady under the title of the Immaculate Conception, chosen to signify the years that Bishop Curtis spent as a professor of moral theology at Immaculate Conception Seminary.

The Name

Sacred Heart University was founded in 1963 by the Most Rev. Walter W. Curtis, S.T.D., the second Bishop of the Diocese of Bridgeport, to provide an institution of higher education that would serve the needs of the people of the diocese and region, regardless of their sex, race, creed or religion.

In October 1962, Bishop Curtis announced both the plan to open a college the following September, and its name, "Sacred Heart." The choice of name had a dual origin: it was the name of the Bishop's first pastorate in Bloomfield, N.J., and was a pledge from the Bishop attesting to the value of such an institution.

The Mission

Sacred Heart University is a coeducational, independent, comprehensive institution of higher learning in the Catholic intellectual tradition whose primary objective is to prepare men and women to live in and make their contributions to the human community.

The University aims to assist in the development of people who are knowledgeable of self, rooted in faith, educated in mind, compassionate in heart, responsive to social and civic obligations, and able to respond to an ever-changing world. It does this by calling forth the intellectual potential of its students, nurturing each one's spiritual and moral growth, and deepening in them a sense of social responsibility. The University is committed to combining education for life with preparation for professional excellence.

Sacred Heart University is Catholic in tradition and spirit. As a Catholic university, it seeks to play its appropriate role in the modern world. It exemplifies in its life the Judeo-Christian values of the God-given freedom and dignity of every human person. Inspired by the ecumenical spirit of the Second Vatican Council, Sacred Heart University welcomes men and women of all religious traditions and beliefs who share its concerns for truth, scholarship, the dignity of the human person, freedom, and the betterment of human society. It values religious diversity as enhancing the University community and creating opportunities for dialogue in the common search for truth. Through its curricular and co-curricular activities and campus ministry programs, the University provides the context in which students have the opportunity to appropriate in a critical fashion their own religious traditions.

Sacred Heart University challenges its students to think critically, analyze carefully, evaluate with a sense of justice and proportion, and convey conclusions in an intelligible and articulate fashion. The University provides the environment in which its students can develop the aesthetic dimension of life by nurturing their abilities to imagine, create and appreciate. It assists students to acquire a rich understanding of their own cultural and family heritages so as to assume their responsibilities as conveyors and creators of culture and family.

As a community of teachers and scholars, Sacred Heart University exists for the pursuit of truth. It joins with other colleges and universities in the task of expanding human knowledge and deepening human understanding. It encourages and supports the scholarly and artistic work of its faculty and students. Further, it has a responsibility to share its resources and its special gifts and talents for the betterment of the human community. All members of the University community are strongly encouraged to participate in the wider community through service to others, especially the poor.

From its founding, the University has been recognized for its caring approach to students. This approach expresses the University's belief that each student is born with a unique set of qualities and skills. It respects the personal and academic freedom of each of its members while at the same time fostering a genuine experience of community. By so doing, it creates the environment in which each person in the University shares in common goals and a common commitment to truth, justice and concern for others.

The Mace

During the Middle Ages, the wood mace clad in metal was an effective weapon in battle, but as newer and more powerful military arms developed, it was transformed into a symbol of dignity and authority.

The earliest ceremonial maces were borne by bodyguards of 12th century English and French kings; by the end of the 16th century, they were used widely by officials of English cities and towns. Today, the use of the ceremonial mace is found in the British House of Parliament, carried before ecclesiastical dignitaries and in university and college commencements and convocations.

The Sacred Heart University Mace traditionally is carried by the senior tenured faculty member and represents the President's responsibility as the chief academic and administrative officer of the University. Commissioned by President Anthony J. Cernera, Ph.D., to mark the University's 25th commencement, the mace is made of rosewood, mahogany, walnut and bronze.

Academic Dress

Tradition holds that the cap and gown were first used in ancient Greece when only youths of wealthy parents or those with patrons attended school. The wise teachers of the time believed that fine clothing and jewels should not be worn by the scholar but rather, that the scholar should wear the garments of the worker.

In the United States, the gown commonly worn for both the associate's and bachelor's degrees has pointed sleeves (with a slit for the arm). It is designed to be worn closed. The gown for the master's degree has an oblong sleeve, open at the wrist. The gown for the doctoral degree has bell-shaped open sleeves. All gowns are black and without trimming with the exception of the doctoral gown, which normally is trimmed with velvet, has three bars or chevrons on the sleeves and may be in distinctive color(s) governed by the school granting that degree. The master's and doctoral gowns may be worn open.

Upon graduation, students of old carried a mortarboard showing them to be masons of the future destined to build empires or cities or fountains of wisdom on the firm foundation of knowledge. To this day, graduates wear mortarboard caps and gowns, symbolizing that they are builders of the future.

The history of the hood, with which degree recipients are invested, dates back to 13th century England. Whether its origin is ecclesiastical or secular has never been settled. Hoods are two-and-one-half feet long for the associate's, three feet for the bachelor's, three-and-one-half feet for the master's and four feet for the doctor's degree. The hood is lined with the colors of the institution — red and white, in the case of Sacred Heart University. The color of the trim indicates the academic degree — white for arts, letters and humanities (B.A.), golden yellow for science (B.S.).

The hoods of those with graduate degrees, as well as the tassels on the mortarboards of the undergraduates, are often in the color associated with the academic field of specialization, as follows:
